NORTH NEWRY

John Vail took dinner with H. Hanscom, Thursday.

Don Smith was buried last Wednesday. Funeral held at his daughter's at Newry.

Mrs. Bertha Bean, who has been caring for Mrs. Lester Lane, returned home Thursday as her children were sick. Mrs. Lane helped her the rest of the week.

Raymond H. Eastman is at Hartley and John Vail are working for Fred Kilgore and Herbert in the woods.

Lester Lane was home from Upton over the week end.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad. You are likely to get sick unless you eat and drink and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Mrs. H. D. Wickett, of 139 Fourth St., Old Town, Me., says: "I didn't enjoy anything to eat and had to quit milk and coffee. Now I do the cooking, washing, ironing and housecleaning and it doesn't tire me out."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure, medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

AS NEAR AS THE TELEPHONE

Our service is always as near as the nearest telephone. Calls from outside towns receive the same prompt and careful attention as those from close at hand. Our complete modern motor equipment shortens the distance.

We make this announcement for the information of those who might desire the complete service that we are prepared to give, but hesitate to call us because they are not located in this town.

Our service knows no boundaries. Even in distant cities we have connections with leading funeral directors and can arrange for the same service that we give in this town.

Millions of Miles of Constant Testing

to maintain the outstanding quality and dependability of The Chevrolet Six

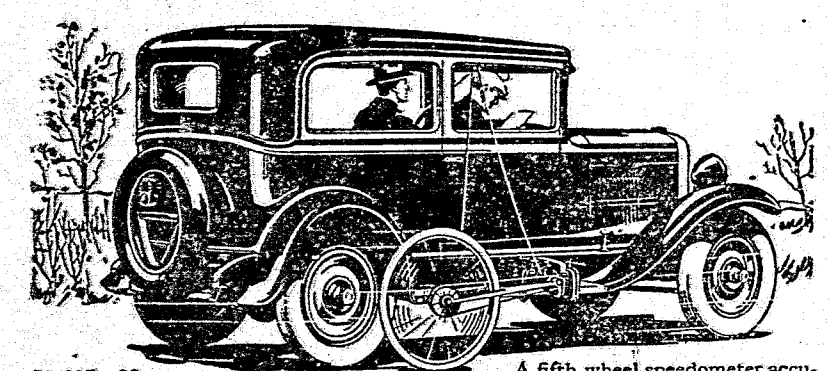

In spite of the fact that a million Chevrolet Sixes have already been placed in the hands of owners, and have proved their performance and stamina by billions of miles of service over every type of highway the nation affords—

—the Chevrolet Motor Company continues to take new Chevrolet Sixes from the assembly line at the factory and subject them to pitiless testing on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground!

This passion for proof—this consistent refusal to accept any tests as final—is one of the fundamental reasons for the overwhelming popularity of Chevrolet cars. For in no other way is it possible to make the Chevrolet Six so sound in design and materials—so dependable in performance—and so economical to operate!

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, come in and see the new Chevrolet. You will find that it is more than a Six in the price range of the four. In every way it is a finer car than you ever thought possible in the low-price field!

Tamarack Talk

Edwin Arlington Robinson shares with Robert Frost the highest place among the poets of New England. Born in Maine, with the Puritan background of reason and order, Robinson was a New England spirit in all his work. He is a part of New England. He writes with the temper of the Puritan and the technique of the modern psychologist. Besides carrying on the tradition of Puritanism Robinson conveys the English tradition in our poetry. There is much of Browning in this poet of New England. There is the same concern with the creation of character along with a brooding and penetrating analysis of the minds and actions of the characters. Just as Browning's ever recurrent idea of success through failure is part of the great English poet's philosophy, so too, Robinson deals with failure, though not with exactly the same idea in mind.

While Browning is forever looking for the bright side, ever indulging in cheerful optimism in "God's Heaven," Robinson is right with the world, our own poet is not so demonstrably hopeful, though he is not entirely pessimistic. Robinson does not take everything for granted and he goes to it. He must analyze, brood, and wonder, which all naturally causes the thinker-poet to doubt. What thinker has not doubted? So we have such poems as "The Night of the Tristram," "Cliff Klingenberg," "Aaron Stark." We see in the long, beautiful narrative poem "Tristram" more of the poet's philosophy. Tristram wonders why he is Tristram, why things happen as they do. There is a bit of futility in this philosophy of Robinson that borders upon fatalism, and though he sees beyond the facts of existence as he must for he constantly uses the words "light" and "gleam," and though there is always a faint ray of hope, seriousness and apparent agnosticism abound most frequently in the poems.

Sometimes of a conflict, then, in the mind of the poet, brings out the beautiful sonnets and other poems that we have from Robinson. Ex tenebris lux, so to speak.

Sonnet

When we can all so excellently give
The measure of love with a blow—
Why can we not in turn receive it so,
And when we do not so frantically strive
And when we do not so frantically strive
With strange faith, why do we shun to know
That's wholeness gleams with light superlative?
Oh, brother men, if you have eyes at all,
Look at a branch, a bird, a child, or a wife
Or anything God ever made that grows—
You let us smile, vision of it all,
Till you may find a gleam of light, or a wife
The glory of eternal partnership.

In "Tristram" (1927) the medieval romance of Tristram and Isolde is beautifully told in a narrative poem that exemplifies the poet's marvelous use of blank verse. Robinson's philosophy, his trayed most vividly through Robinson's power of dramatic narrative. Most beautiful are the moments when Tristram and Isolde are alone together absorbed in their great love, oblivious of the world about them, conscious only of each other. The language has beauty and depth, passion and power, emotion and action.

"Cavender's House," Edwin Arlington Robinson's latest poem, exhibits more definitely the poet's own philosophy. Through the voice of Cavender we glimpse Robinson in his reflective mood of wonderment, doubt and analysis. This poem shows Mr. Robinson's ability to create atmosphere as well as to create a poetic musical verse which contains depth in thought and delves into the realm of metaphysics.

Guy Ingalls and son, Ray and family have moved back to their farm near Swift Corner.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morrill from Pike Hill were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heath, Sunday afternoon.
Nate Merrill is making cider at his mill here.
Mrs. Alice Watson and daughter, Geneva, Norway Center, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heath for the day, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Myron Paragard and Mrs. Hester Walker from the village were callers at E. T. Judkins', Sunday afternoon.
Mrs. C. D. Morse had a most delightful motor trip, Sunday, with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swan and their two children. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Swan of the village and Mr. and Mrs. Cummings of Massachusetts. Leaving the village around 7 a. m., they motored through Bethel, Newry and Grafton, stopping off at points of interest, viewing the Devil's Horsehoe, Screw Anchor through Bethel, Newry and Grafton, North to Upton Hill, where they visited the cemetery as some in the party had relatives buried there. From Upton Hill they went on to Andover, where the Swans have a camp. Here they ate a picnic lunch and enjoyed the wonderful mountain scenery in spite of the blue October haze, which at times nearly obscured their view. Their trip home led through Rumford, where they crossed the ferry, which was quite a new experience to some of the party, though on the whole we think thoroughly enjoyed. The party arrived at Swift's Corner around four p. m., having made fourteen stops at places of interest and covered 115 miles. The day was ideal except for the haze and not even a flat tire to mar the enjoyment of this long to be remembered trip.

NORWAY—NOBLE'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cox went to Andover one day last week to see Allen Frazer, who lived at Herbert Hill's a long time. Allen went to make his home with his aunt, Mrs. Win York and family over a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Cox reported finding him fine and to be grown to be quite a man with his "longies", and seems to be enjoying himself to top notch with his cousins and schoolmates, also his father, brother and sister near Mr. and Mrs. Cox also visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Booney of Gloucester, Sunday.

Wayland Upton with his truck moved Henry Noyes and family of Greenwood to West Paris, Monday.

SHREDDED WHEAT

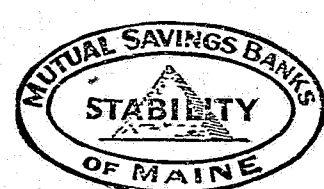

Fortify the body against sudden changes of climate by eating nourishing, easily digested foods. Start the day with Shredded Wheat and hot milk—it's delicious, nourishing and satisfying. Gives lots of energy for the day's work.

"TAKE YE NO THOUGHT FOR THE MORROW"

is perhaps as much Scripture as some people now practice in their daily lives. The more sensible and practical folks do take a thought for the tomorrows, and plan for them. Not only the tomorrows, but the next weeks, next months, and next years.

These well grounded folks start and build regularly a savings account, just so that they will be ready to use some of that saved money in some future day of sunshine.

BON-TONE

Best for Disorders of Stomach, Liver, Kidneys
and Bowels

A person whose system is absorbing bowel poisons by being constipated, frequently suffers from headaches, poor digestion, loss of appetite, lack of energy, nervousness, dizzy spells, biliousness, tired and generally run down feeling, all of which is usually attributed to some other cause entirely.
Even those who realize that the trouble may be due to constipation, too often depend upon a mild laxative pill which causes some bowel action, but does not soften and remove the hardened accumulations. The consequences are that the real condition is not helped and the feeling of illness continues.
When Nature warns, take BON-TONE, which eliminates poisons from the intestinal tract.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Thomas On Way to California—Observed Ladies' Night—Fun Union Held.

Lewis A. Thomas, a native of Rumford, is on his way to his home in California, after a visit of half month with relatives in Rumford and vicinity, Sunday, October 20. Thomas and his sister, Mrs. Lloyd were given a surprise party at Simpson's home in East Rumford, where they were entertained by Mrs. and Mrs. Willard A. Wyman and Mrs. Willard E. Wyman. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wyman, Lewis, Mrs. Addie Thomas, daughter, Kathleen, and granddaughters, Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank and daughter, Villa. A picnic of clothing baked beans, was served at noon. Other guests of Mrs. Simpson during the day were former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins and two sons, from Point. Mr. Thomas, who is eighty-four years old, is making a trip to California, where he will stay for a day.

It was "Ladies' Night" at the Rumford Center, Saturday evening, when a program of readings and stunts was given by the committee, Mrs. Rena Abbott, Mrs. Wyman and Miss Bark. A splendid dinner, consisting of punch, squash pies and new dishes, was served after the meeting. There were seventy-five present.

Herbert Hall has taken down one of the Zircon tires from his car, which he used at the fair. The tire was unique, being in the shape of a bottle, so there is a good story side.

Many of the Farm Bureau tented the Denmark Art Club exhibition at Hotel Rumford, last week. A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Wyman, last week, and a program of readings and stunts was given by the committee, Mrs. Rena Abbott, Mrs. Wyman and Miss Bark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dorian and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wright Elliott of Andover, were on their way to Rangely, where they were met by way of Phillips, Sunday, October 20.

HANOVER

Mrs. Emma Bragg
Emma Kimball, widow of L. Bragg, died Oct. 7 at the home of her daughter in Hanover, after a long illness. She had been suffering for several months, but her illness was patiently, believing that all she drew her nearer to her heavenly home, whom she had served faithfully in her youth, when she united with the church in Bethel.
She was born in Bethel, the daughter of Jacob and Phebe Kimball. She leaves two sons, Charles, Kimball, South Paris and George, Kimball, G. A. R. veteran of World War I, married Lorraine Dorian of Upton. She had eight children, four sons and four daughters, Octavia, being the youngest. After the death of her husband she was with her only son, Chester Bragg, until his death in 1925.
She leaves four daughters, Mrs. L. Campbell, Andover, Mrs. Balfour, Rangely, Mrs. James Barnett and Edward Warren, Upton and nine children. She was buried from church Upton where she had worshipped for forty years.

Stearns Bought Clark Place—Twitche Attended Convention.
C. Judkins Cummings, and daughter, Mrs. Lucy Barrows, of West Paris and Miss Lunt of Livermore, called on Flora Cummings, Sunday, October 15th.
Mr. Clark has sold the Allen place to Stearns of Norway. Mr. Clark getting his mill set and in readiness for his winter's work for the M. T. S. Mrs. Clark is one of the women, helping her mother, Mrs. M. T. S. is soon to leave for California, where she has a son, then Mrs. Clark is in readiness to move. Part of their property is for the farm in Livermore and a part is for the camp, meantime entertained, Sunday, Mr. Clark's nephew and wife of three weeks, and Mrs. M. T. S. and Mrs. Charles Ingalls, daughter, Francis of Portland with a friend, Mrs. Jean Balcom, of Boston, arrived, having been round the mountains. A buffet lunch was served at 8:30 a. m. a merry time enjoyed to a late hour.
Flora Cummings spent the day, October 19th, with her friend, Mrs. Rena Abbott, Norway.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Twitche and Mrs. Chestina Twitche attended the S. Conference held in Kennebunkport, October 17th to 20th, inclusive. Sunday, Mrs. Twitche and A. Twitche's sister, Mrs. Clifford Oland, of Portland kept her while she was away.
The climate, Sunday, called everyone and their friends out doors and made it very heavy. Big trade at waystation and no accidents reported in this vicinity.

Special Partnership Plan to Customers of the Central Maine Power Company
October 22nd to November 5th

Beginning Tuesday, October 22, and continuing for 13 working days, unless stock is all sold before that time, the Central Maine Power Company will again offer, through its employees, a special partnership plan to its customers.

When a similar partnership plan was made last year of 3,000 shares, over 4,000 shares were sold in four days. The Campaign was closed before the allotted time and many orders were cancelled.

This year 5,000 more shares of its PREFERRED STOCK $6 DIVIDEND SERIES have been reserved exclusively for customers at the special terms of $97 flat, with no accrued interest charges, purchasers from October 22 to November 5 receiving full interest from October 1. The yield at this price is better than 6.18 per cent.

Invest Your Savings in Your Home Town
Power Company

With common stocks or investments with a "kick" in them selling at prices that have discounted earnings for years to come, yielding dividends in most cases less than 4 per cent, it is extremely difficult to pick those which are due for a further rise.

At such a time the prudent and wise investor is looking for an investment that will not shrink in value and will yield a large income. Conservative financial advisors are therefore recommending for a portion of investors funds, investments in underlying, fixed income producing stocks which have an opportunity to increase in value and pay a higher interest rate than the average common stock. Such an investment, we believe, is the PREFERRED STOCK $6 DIVIDEND SERIES of the Central Maine Power Company.

Follow the Example of Banks and Insurance Companies

Banks, insurance companies and investment trusts invest in the successful growing electric utility PREFERRED STOCKS. Many of these companies own ours. They invest only after the most careful consideration as to SAFETY, MARKETABILITY, YIELD, APPRECIATION IN VALUE.

Over 13,000 Maine investors already own the Preferred Stock of this Company.

Can you afford to be less careful with your money?

Ask Any Employee for Details or Send In Coupon

We cannot give full details of the offer here. Beginning Tuesday, our employees will call upon as many of our customers as time permits. They cannot reach everyone before the allotted 5,000 shares are sold. Make sure that you receive full details by asking any employee of this Company, or send in the coupon.
